

Planning Our Future:
Growth, Transportation, and the Issues Ahead of Us
A forum for discussion

---

What are the related benefits, costs and trade-offs of growth? Which tradeoffs are acceptable and which are not? Please join us to weigh in on the choices we need to make and how we — as a region — can balance competing values and interests. Communities in Motion and Blueprint for Good Growth planning projects will frame the discussion.

WHEN & WHERE

September 19, 2005
Boise State University, Jordan Ballroom
(Student Union Building)
5:30—9:00 pm
Hearty refreshments provided!

Registration required!

Seating is limited. To register:
knice@compassidaho.org or call
855-2558 ext. 0

Keynote Speaker: Scott Polikov, a planner and principal of the award-winning Gateway Planning Group in Austin, Texas, is an advocate of urban design, place-making and the economics of transportation. To achieve viable regionalism, Polikov rejects the “growth/no growth” debate in favor of a constructive mix of housing types, neighborhood retail, great streets, transportation access, urban design integrated with local land development codes, and harnessing the profit motive of developers.

PLEASE
PLACE
STAMP
HERE

COMPASS
800 S. Industry Way,
Suite 100
Meridian, ID 83642

Mailing Address Line 1
Mailing Address Line 2
Mailing Address Line 3
Mailing Address Line 4
Mailing Address Line 5

For details, visit www.compassidaho.org or call 855-2558